

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. I have a 90+ year old grandmother living alone, who has difficulty speaking - this has decreased her frustration tremendously. I also have a husband who is very ill, who no longer is disturbed by telephone solicitors. Dinner time at our home used to be a constant "ringing in our ears." We used to receive an average of 6 - 10 calls per day. We presently enjoy our family time without the distractions. I beg you, on behalf of my family and all others in similar circumstances, to preserve our freedom and allow Indiana's Telephone Privacy law to remain in tact.

Respectfully submitted,

Kathleen Christie
